

WEBINAR Exclusivo para ACEIA “How to Hybrid”

Viernes, 27 de Noviembre 2020, de 11.00 a 13.00.

El panorama del aula cambia constantemente. Ahora más que nunca, los profesores y las instituciones tienen que adaptarse a un nuevo entorno educativo casi a diario. Uno de estos pasos ha sido la integración de un nuevo sistema de clases híbridas. En la primavera, las escuelas ACEIA tuvieron que dar un salto sin red a esta nueva manera de enseñanza. Por eso, ACEIA ha organizado un Webinar con el objetivo de proporcionar al profesorado las herramientas necesarias para configurar sus clases y prepararlas para el mundo híbrido. Además, de algunos consejos profesionales para hacer que las clases funcionen sin problemas.

La sesión ha estado a cargo de tres Speakers:

Harry Waters, con 'How to Hybrid'; y Enda Scott and Lisa Dold, con "Hybrid classes: Focus on YLs and Speaking with Teens and Adults", a quienes queremos agradecerles especialmente su dedicación.

INTRODUCTION

In spring, many of us made the jump from face-to-face to online teaching in record time. At that point, we probably never imagined that the future would have a hybrid of both in store. Getting to grips with facilitating learning both online and in the classroom is a challenge, so join ACEIA for a morning dedicated to hybrid classes.

Program:

11.00 – 12.00 : 'How to Hybrid' : Harry Waters

12.00 – 13.00 : Hybrid classes: Focus on YLs and Speaking with Teens and Adults : Enda Scott and Lisa Dold

'How to Hybrid' : Harry Waters

The landscape of the classroom is ever changing. Now more than ever teachers and institutions are having to adapt to a new educational environment almost on a daily basis. One such step taken has been to integrate a new hybrid class system. This session will provide teachers with the tools required to get their classes set up and ready for the hybrid world. It will provide some pro tips on how to keep your class running smoothly and some go to activities to keep your lessons lively and your students interacting.

Hybrid classes: Focus on YLs and Speaking with Teens and Adults : Enda Scott and Lisa Dold

Teaching young learners and encouraging interactive and extended speaking among teens and adults can pose some difficulties when doing hybrid classes.

Like almost everyone, Lisa and Enda are new to 'hybriding' but are keen to share some ideas and activities which they have discovered work in this new dynamic. There will also be an opportunity for participants to share their favourite hybrid tips and tricks.

Speakers :

Harry Waters - Harry hails from Northampton. As soon as he could, he packed his bags and taught in as many places as possible from South America to South East Asia, down to Australasia and back over to Europe. He settled in Spain, where he has worked in both academies and schools. He has an incredibly hands-on approach to teaching and is intent on bringing his classes to life with games for his students both young and old.

Enda Scott is a Teacher Trainer at ELI, Seville and a Director of one of its Centres. He has given talks and workshops all over Spain. He has a Masters in Ed. from the University of Manchester and is a Past President of TESOL-SPAIN.

Lisa Dold has been teaching since 2006 and is Director of Studies at English 1, Seville. She holds a Cambridge DELTA and she is currently responsible for training in ACEIA.
